

Theodore Kristian Almen Harwood

Curriculum Vitae

1235 University Boulevard
Egan 101B
Steubenville, Ohio 43952

tharwood@franciscan.edu
tkaharwood@gmail.com
office: (740) 284-5388

Updated November 2022

RESEARCH AND TEACHING INTERESTS

(1) St. Augustine (2) The Liberal Arts (3) Homer (4) Cicero (5) Hermeneutics

EDUCATION

2018 Ph.D., Classics (Ancient Philosophy), Cornell University

Dissertation: “‘What My Scripture says, I say’: St. Augustine’s Theory of Scriptural Interpretation”

Committee: Charles Brittain (chair), Andrew Hicks, Scott MacDonald, Hayden Pelliccia

2014 M.A., Classics, Cornell University

2011 B.A. Latin, summa cum laude, salutatorian, Hillsdale College

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

2018-Present, Assistant Professor of Classics, Franciscan University of Steubenville

Epic and the Person (English core)

Honors I: Early Classical Literature

Honors II: Later Classical Literature

Introductory Studies in Greek I & II

Intermediate Studies in Greek I

Introductory Studies in Latin I and II (also the creator of online versions)

Intermediate Studies in Latin I and II

Latin Fathers: Philosophical Dialogues of Cicero and St. Augustine

Oral Latin

Readings in the Vulgate

2015-17, Instructor, Cornell University

Intermediate Latin: Vergil’s Aeneid

Freshman Writing Seminar: Greek Myth (Greek Myth and the Western Tradition; What’s So Great About Greek Myth?)

Medieval Latin Reading Group (co-leader)

Elementary Latin I

2014-15, Upper School Teacher, Highlands Latin School

Classical Metaphysics, AP Latin, Third Form Latin, Logic, Greek III-V

2012-2014, Instructor, Cornell University

Freshman Writing Seminar: Greek Myth (What Is a Hero?)

Elementary Latin I

Intensive Greek

PROFESSIONAL AND OTHER EXPERIENCE

2017 Participant, Conventiculum Latinum Lexintoniense. Hosted by the University of Kentucky, Lexington.

2016 Participant, Lumen Christi Institute Graduate Seminar on “The Thought of John Henry Newman,” led by Ian Ker. Hosted at Merton College, Oxford.

2012, 13, 15, 16 Session leader, annual Cornell Eudemian Ethics graduate student conference, Books III, IV, VI, VII.

2010-2011 National Treasurer, Eta Sigma Phi.

PRESENTATIONS

2021 “Intention and Interpretation: the Point of Reading in St. Augustine’s Hermeneutics.” Hillsdale College, March 5 (invited lecture).

2017 “St. Augustine and the Scriptural Authors’ Intention.” Franciscan University of Steubenville, October 12 (invited lecture).

2017 “The Human Author in Augustine’s Scriptural Hermeneutics,” Society for Classical Studies conference, January 5-8.

2016 “Scripture for Dummies: Augustine on Ignorant Readers of the Bible,” Classical Association of the Middle West and South conference, March 16-20.

SERVICE TO UNIVERSITY

2022-present Advisor, Eta Sigma Phi, Theta Phi chapter/Classics Club

2020-present (Secondary) Advisor, Veritas Society student organization

2020-present Advisor to undeclared students (in addition to department advising)

2019-present Member, Assessment and Accreditation Committee

2020-2022 Representative for School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Faculty Welfare Committee

2021 (Spring) Member, Shared Governance Task Force on Academic Innovation

HONORS AND AWARDS

2017 Cornell Graduate School Three-Minute Thesis Finalist.